

To whom it may concern

Spreitenbach, September 17, 2011

Merger between Eminess Technologies and N. BUCHER AG

Dear Valued Customer and Partner

I am pleased to announce that N. BUCHER AG (NIBAG) and Eminess Technologies, Inc., Scottsdale Arizona/USA, are merging their respective organizations into a new Eminess Technologies European office located in Frauenfeld/Switzerland. The merger will be complete on December 1st, 2011. This letter will outline the events, corresponding timeline and next steps so you are completely informed of the transition.

Eminess Technologies is a manufacturer and distributor of customized electronic materials, and a company whose products we distribute. My business relationship with the owners of Eminess Technologies, in the surface process technology market, spans 20 years. Our business and company philosophies are very similar, based on competence, quality honesty and efficiency. This merger will unite two market leaders into one exciting company to serve Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA). The synergies of these two companies will ensure a strong partner with dedicated support and solid resources in Europe.

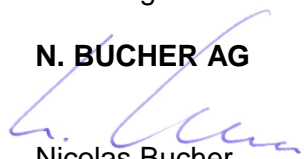

We are in the process of transitioning. Be assured that representatives from our company will be in communication with you to provide updates and all the information needed to contact, place orders and receive technical support. There will be no interruption in service on products currently supplied by N. BUCHER AG. NIBAG's complete product offering will be available from Eminess Technologies.

You will receive a full packet of information within weeks. This will explain everything you need to know regarding the change, in detail. For the time being, please continue to communicate and place order within N. BUCHER AG until further notice.

Thanks you for your trust, loyalty and your business. If you have questions, please don't hesitate to contact me directly.

Best Regards

N. BUCHER AG

Nicolas Bucher
CEO